University students get smart with new tablets

EAST London university students are the first in the UK to be given free smart devices as part of their courses.

The £2m deal by University of East London means that all of this year's 4,000 first-year students will receive Samsung Note devices and eBooks. UEL said no other university was offering such a giveway.

The brand-new Samsung Galaxy Note 8s come pre-loaded with core e-textbooks as well as links to the university's online library resources, the virtual learning environment and other student resources and information.

More than 70 per cent of the student in take come from Waltham Forest, Redbridge, Barking and Dagenham and Newham.

Professor John Jougin, UEL Vice-Chancellor, said: "The University of East

London places a strong emphasis on helping students to get the most out of the time they spend with us."

Council bungles social worker investigation by not realising she worked for them

EXCLUSIVE

By Charles Thomson

redbridge@yellowad.co.uk

A BENEFIT cheat social worker kept her job after 'bungling' council investigators failed to realise she was a council employee.

Redbridge Council's fraud squad investigated Shelly Brodie for wrongly claiming more than £3,500, not realising she worked as a team leader in the council's children's services department.

The mistake enabled her to move to a different council to collect a government wage.

The Taxpayers' Alliance slammed the 'bungled' investigation, saying it had been 'badly mismanaged'.

Brodie, who was this month struck off as a social worker, left Redbridge Council in 2011. The council's fraud squad began probing her housing benefit claims in 2010.

She was convicted in January 2012 of wrongly claiming £3,635.06.

By that time she had taken a job as disabled children's team manager for Barking and Dagenham Council. She was required to alert her employers to her conviction but failed to do so.

Redbridge Council was also legally obliged to notify the council and relevant professional bodies, but failed its statutory duty because of the oversight.

A council spokesman said the authority's fraud squad had not realised she was a council employee or a social worker, because she was a contractor.

Dance students Debora Lopes De'Oliveira (left) and Peace-Sarah Emokpae inspect their new Samsung tablets on a busy enrolment day at the University of East London

Barking and Dagenham Council only discovered Brodie's conviction when she left personal documents in the office.

The bungled investigation was made public this month, when Brodie was hauled before a Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC) hearing to be reprimanded for her cover-up.

A HCPC report said: "In September 2012, personal documents were discovered on a photocopier machine relating to an enforcement matter, which disclosed the fact that the registrant had been convicted for benefit fraud. The employer stated that she had never informed them of her conviction."

A panel ordered that she be struck off.

A Redbridge Council spokesman said: "The housing benefits investigation team who undertook the investigation did not know she was working at Redbridge Council, as she was agency staff and not on the records or staff employee list.

"Our investigation team had no knowledge of her employing organisation or her occupation. If the council had known, relevant guidance and legislation would have been followed concerning the notification and professional bodies and/or employers would have been advised accordingly."

The council said no staff were disciplined over the mistake.

Jonathan Isaby, chief executive of the Taxpayers' Alliance, said: "This case seems to have been badly mismanaged. Residents will expect officers to carry out investigations with far more competence than this."

"It's taxpayers funding these salaries and teams and they'll be hoping that bungling officers aren't in charge of delivering essential services they rely on."

Competition

WIN £50 IN SPORTS DIRECT VOUCHERS

Football fans are thrilled as some of the world's top footballers return to the field in the UEFA Europa League.

After Germany became the first European team to win a FIFA World Cup in South America in July, fans turn their attentions to their club's exploits in Europe.

Tottenham Hotspur, who claimed sixth spot in the Premier League last year ahead of Manchester United and Southampton, and Everton are in the group stages on the road to Warsaw.

Players fuel the passion of fans as they bid to be crowned champions, and this drive is mirrored by UEFA Europa League sponsors Hankook Tires' efforts in research and development, with its desire to produce top quality tyres and a common goal to be the best and achieve victory.

Hankook Tire group, one of the world's largest and fastest growing tyre manufacturers, produces innovative, high-quality and high-performance radial tyres for passenger cars, trucks, SUVs, buses and motorsports.

Premium tyres, born of outstanding technical skill, provide the best driving experience, just as passionate football fans experience a sense of oneness with the players, becoming the ultimate partner during 90 minutes of competition.

To celebrate this Hankook is offering

Stars join film festival

HOLLYWOOD stars from Brad Pitt to Reese Witherspoon will visit the capital next month for the BFI London Film Festival.

The 12-day festival will host 247 feature films, including 17 world premieres.

Screenings, masterclasses and debates will be held all over the capital, from Mayfair, Covent Garden and Chelsea to Hackney, Brixton and Bethnal Green.

The programme includes a number of family screenings and offers cheap tickets for students and OAPs.

The festival offers members of the public the chance to walk up the red carpet with their favourite movie stars for little more than they would pay for an ordinary cinema trip.

Benedict Cumberbatch will walk the carpet in Leicester Square as the festival kicks off on October 8, with Alan Turing biopic The Imitation Game.

Pop star Björk will attend a gala screening of documentary Biophilia Live and big screen legend Brad Pitt will greet fans as the festival closes on Sunday, October 19, with World War Two drama, Fury.

While many of the festival's red carpet galas and hot picks are currently showing as 'sold out', fast-fingered film fans will be able to bag extra seats released to the public on Thursday, October 2.

In addition to the glitzy premieres, a series of events will be staged to mark the 20th anniversary of Dreamworks' Shrek.

The family strand will host screenings from 3D animation Yellowbird and the new Moomins outing, to the classic 1954 animation of George Orwell's Animal Farm.

A number of documentaries and real-life stories will receive their first airings before British audiences, including Michael Winterbottom's The Face of an Angel, based on the Amanda Knox murder trial.

CitizenFour documents US whistleblower Ed Snowden's quest to expose government spying, while Honeytrap explores east London's gang culture, based on a collection of personal accounts.

Singer Björk will attend a premiere of her new documentary

3D animation Yellowbird screens in the Family strand

Brad Pitt will walk the red carpet at the premiere of war film Fury

More British stories will be told in Mr Turner, starring Timothy Spall as painter Joseph Turner, and London Calling, seven short films by the capital's hottest emerging talents.

Elsewhere, eagle-eyed festival-goers might spot British stars like Kiera Knightley, Dominic West and Alan Rickman.

American visitors will include Anchorman star Steve Carell and The Daily Show anchor Jon Stewart, who will screen directorial debut Rosewater and attend a debate about freedom of speech.

Back despite popular demand!

By Veronica Lee

PAUL Daniels is just as much a live-wire in real life as he is on stage – he's not one of those entertainers who switch off their personality the minute they leave the theatre – and when we meet at the Savoy Hotel in London to discuss his new show he is straight into the jokes, most of them at his own expense.

"Comic, magician, international sex symbol..." the diminutive funnyman says by way of introduction, as "the lovely Debbie McGee" – as we all surely call his wife and onstage-partner – looks on. I ask if he is ever "off".

"No," Debbie says with a smile. "Paul is exactly the same at home as he is on stage. I don't know anyone else so resolutely positive about life."

The couple, who married in 1988, are touring a new show, Back Despite Popular Demand! – which, they tell me, contains some old favourites as well as new tricks. "People complain when we don't do tricks they expect to see every time they come to see us, so we've included two oldies, my signature illusions as it were, but everything else is different," says Paul.

"And the great thing about a live show is that it's never the same twice because the audience is different each night."

In a previous tour the couple introduced a Q&A as part of the show. "Some of the questions were really left-field and kept me on my toes," says Paul. He enjoys the contact with fans, and is a keen tweeter and blogger, but even though he's very much a fan of modern gizmos, says about using it his act: "You can use technology, providing it's not technology that does the trick."

Paul makes most of his own props and is also a keen handyman at home; during the floods last winter their Thames-side Berkshire home was not seriously affected, as he had built a system of gates and pumps – even though their garden was under water for several weeks. And once Debbie came home from shopping to find he had installed a mezzanine floor in his large workshop. Why? "I thought, well, it has a high ceiling, so why not?" says Paul.

The Middlesbrough native, who started doing magic tricks at the age of 11, has developed illusions for several shows in London's West End, including Cats and Phantom of the Opera. He and Debbie like to go to Las Vegas to see the big magic shows and Paul is a keen student of the art-form – and he has an extensive collection of books and artefacts. "Lots of people contact Paul if they need to know anything about the history of tricks and illusions," says Debbie.

With more than 40 years in the business, Paul says he rarely doesn't know how another performer does a trick, but occasionally even he is foxed. "Then I break it down, bit by bit, and eventually I will work it out," he says. "And I tip my hat to anyone who could stump me."

As a member of the Magic Circle, would he ever reveal the mechanics of a trick?

"Oh no, why spoil the illusion? What people are seeing defies the laws of nature and of physics – matter can't disappear and then reappear, for example – so they know it's not real but can't understand how it's done and that makes great entertainment. And a lot of what makes it fun is the chat that goes with it, of course."

He also does occasional "mentalist" tricks – mind-reading – and talks with awe about some of the great performers in this field, but Paul is less keen on psychics, who, he believes, use the same tricks but for less noble purposes. "If they are talking to those who have passed, why do they never ask them, 'What's it like?'" he says scathingly. "A lot of them may think they're not doing any harm, but for me they are continuing the sorrow [of the bereaved], I believe once you're gone, you're gone."

I ask if anything ever goes wrong with a trick and they both laugh. "Not that the audience would be aware of," says Paul. "When I'm creating a show, I plan the routines and then I plan the get-outs, so if anything goes wrong, I'm ready."

Debbie adds: "It rarely happens that anything goes wrong but when it has – someone fainted in the front row once – Paul was completely unfazed and carried on cracking gags while he was being helped out."

Back to the tour, which Paul and Debbie are looking forward to/Enjoying as they travel around the country. "We love doing the show but travelling can be a pain," says Paul. "So we stay in nice hotels and eat lovely food, and explore an area when we possibly can. This is a great country and we love discovering new parts of it."

*Paul Daniels – Back Despite Popular Demand! will be at Broadway Theatre, Barking, on Friday, October 3, at 7.30pm. For further information and tickets call the Box Office on 020 8507 5607 or visit www.thebroadwaybarking.com

STAGE SCHOOL: Youngsters taking part in the seven bridge walk on Saturday

Day trip for aspiring performers

YOUNGSTERS from a Dagenham stage school have been busy raising cash to take part in a dance competition in Disneyland Paris next year.

On Saturday, September 20, the girls completed a 13-mile walk across the seven bridges of central London to help with funding for the competition which takes place in March.

As well as getting sponsorship from family and friends they collected money along the way and have raised £2,800.

But the fundraising does not stop there as they are also bag packing at a local supermarket, organising a bootsales, raffle and quiz night, and contacting local businesses to see if they can make a cash donation or supply any of the equipment required for the trip.

Born 2 Perform stage school, based at St George's Church in Rogers Road, was launched in 2001 to teach children from the age of two to their late teens a range of dance styles including tap, ballet, modern and jazz.

The dance school have been given the opportunity to take part in the 2015 Disney dance competitions and we are hoping to travel with the whole dance team to showcase some of Dagenham's young talent.

Any local businesses who would like to sponsor them or donate to this worthwhile cause can contact Born 2 Perform through their Facebook page at <https://m.facebook.com/profile.php?id=413565872066037>

MAYOR OF LONDON

Redevelopment plan for Brewery shopping centre

ROMFORD'S Brewery shopping centre is in line for a £5m makeover.

TIAA Henderson Real Estate, the site's owners, has submitted a planning application to the council.

Part of the firm's proposals include creating a lavish new state-of-the-art bus station and bus shelters to the west of the brewery.

This would mean demolishing the outdated bus station to make way for a drive through fast food chain.

The new bus depot, along with bus shelters, would be accessed by Waterloo Road.

The plans also include two new retailers, including celebrity favourite pastry shop, Patisserie Valerie, whose first branch was in London's Soho district. If planning permission is granted, the shop fronts surrounding the Brewery will also be given extensive make overs and new signage.

Chief acquisitions partner, Katherine Friend at Hendersons TIAA said: "I don't want to prejudice our chances by speaking about the re-development before the council has made up its mind. We will be releasing much more information next month.

"What I can say is that it will be a radical improvement on the aesthetics of the run down bus station and the facades of the shops surrounding the Brewery and the bus station."

Discussions have been held with Havering Council and Transport for London.

Havering Council would not comment on the application until a decision has been made on October 16.

Transplant patient's oarsome fundraiser

A bone marrow transplant patient from Hornchurch has completed an epic 150-mile, 3.5-day charity row.

Sports worker Chris Spencer said the row – equivalent to the length of the River Thames – took him to his physical limits – especially the first day which was particularly hard.

Chris, 48, who grew up in the East End of London, works as general manager at the Everyone Active Hornchurch Sport Centre in Harrow Lodge Park, Hornchurch Road, Hornchurch.

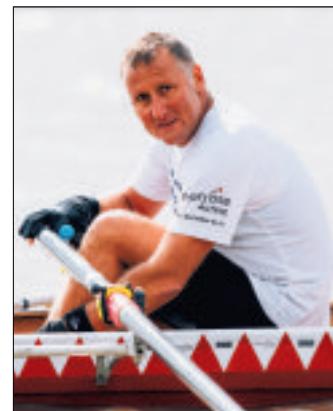

Colleagues from the sports centre assembled a 45-strong cycle team and covered 150 miles in support of his challenge which was from Lechlade-on-Thames in Gloucestershire to Greenwich.

Chris said: "The money we raised will go to the Anthony Nolan trust who saved my life. Thanks to Anthony Nolan, I received a bone marrow transplant last November."

He said the row not only raises money but also awareness for more people to volunteer and become bone marrow and stem cell donors.

On Monday, according to his JustGiving page, he has so far raised £19,266.

Former employee jailed for defrauding East India Club

A DAGENHAM man has been jailed for three years after he defrauded a 'prestigious' members club.

Alfonso Ramirez, 45, of Cambyses Road, was sentenced on Tuesday at Southwark Crown Court.

He had pleaded guilty to defrauding more than £500,000 from the East India Club, where he was described as a 'trusted and well-treated employee'.

He stole the money between January 2010 and January 2014, to feed a 'serious gambling addiction'.

A Met Police spokesman said the force had received an allegation of fraud from the club in St James's Square on January 29.

Ramirez was arrested that day on suspicion of theft.

He appeared at Westminster Magistrates Court on July 29, where he pleaded guilty to two counts of fraud by abuse of position.

DC Russell Farmer said: "A trusted and well-treated employee, over a period of four years, Alfonso Ramirez breached the trust of the East India Club by stealing £553,129.52, to fund a serious gambling addiction."

"This sentence reflects this breach of trust and serves as a further deterrent to others in similar positions."

GUILTY: Alfonso Ramirez

TESTIMONIALS of our Success

"Wonderful job from start to finish. No hassle from Joel when he first visited and brilliant installation, team working in hot conditions. Thank you so much, so happy with the job!"

Mrs Phillips

"Great job and a pleasant experience. Having had bad experiences with home improvement companies in the past it was a relief to deal with Dolphin. No pressure, no messing around, kept us informed at every stage and did a lovely job, our house looks so much better now!"

Triplets Get Sponsorship

Taekwondo triplets of Gants Hills were given a massive boost towards their sports funding when Ilford businessman Amjad Khan of Net Kitchens Direct stepped in to provide a sponsorship deal.

Ilyas, Ibrahim and Ismail Hussain, aged 12, train at Gurumu Taekwondo and are on the Great Britain National Cadet Team. Ilyas and Ibrahim attend Beal High School whilst Ismail attends Ilford County High.

The award was presented by Councillor Keith Prince of the London Borough of Redbridge at Net Kitchens Direct's showroom in Walthamstow.

Councillor Keith Prince himself a Martial Artist was amazed at what both the club and triplets had achieved and was excited to make a visit to Gurumu very shortly.

He said it was great that local businesses can make a difference in supporting youngsters within the community.

The siblings have once again passed trials at the British Academy in July. The sponsorship will contribute towards travelling and hotel expenses when training to training camps at the National Centre.

Already the trio have made four trips to Manchester in the summer holidays for training with other GB Athletes. Last week the brothers were excited when they had the opportunity to train with the Olympic Team.

● A 41-year-old motorcyclist fractured his pelvis in a collision with a car in Brentwood Road, Hornchurch.

Police and ambulance crews were called to the crash at the junction with Osborne Road at 7.20am on Wednesday.

The man was taken to the Royal London Hospital, Whitechapel.

The car driver was assessed at the scene by paramedics but was not taken to hospital.

Roads were closed and traffic was back to normal by 8.30am.

Any witnesses to the accident should call police on 101.

● MORE than 200 people were evacuated from their homes after a gas leak.

Four fire engines were called to Victoria Road, Romford, at 3pm on Tuesday as a precautionary measure.

The brigade said it worked with the gas company to bring the situation under control.

● HUNDREDS of officers from the Metropolitan Police will target taxi and minicab touts as freshers' events are held for students across Havering and the capital.

Officers and Transport for London's taxi and private hire compliance officers will speak to students, particularly women, to tell them minicabs not booked through a licensed operator may potentially be dangerous and their personal safety could be put at risk.

The advice is to always book with a minicab company, don't take one a bouncer hails you on the street and don't take one, even if it has a sticker – it's not safe unless it's booked.

● RESIDENTS can take part in the World's Biggest Coffee Morning for Macmillan Cancer Nurses at The Bowls Club, Lodge Farm Park, Carlton Road, Romford. There will also be items on sale including cakes, clothes, books and toys.

What a swell party!

HUNDREDS of people turned out in Victoria Road, Romford, to celebrate improvement works in the heart of the town on Saturday.

Visitors scoffed free food, while children enjoyed rides, face-painting and street entertainment at the event to highlight the new-look regenerated road.

Restaurants showed off their culinary skills and other traders celebrated their new forecourts, which are set to attract more shoppers to the road.

The £1.8million project, funded by Transport for London (TfL), has allowed the council to transform Victoria Road.

There is now high-quality paving on public footpaths and business forecourts to give the road a more uniform look, while better lighting and new street benches give the street a more pleasant look and feel.

There is also improved access to the bus stop and new cycle parking.

The council is in the final stages of rejuvenating The Battis, a well-used walkway linking Waterloo Road with Romford Station, with brightly coloured paving and an open square, which will form the gateway to the new Crossrail station.

Councillor Robert Benham, cabinet member for environment, said: "I'd like to thank TfL for providing the funding. Anyone who has been to Victoria Road or The Battis since the work started will agree that it has made a real difference.

"It's much more inviting and I hope it will improve footfall and custom for local businesses. And the street party is just the start."

David Rowe, head of borough programmes and projects at TfL, said: "The new street furniture, improved footpaths and street lighting has no doubt helped Victoria Road glow, showcasing TfL's commitment to investing in the wider capital."

THE FORD SUPERSALE IS BACK!

This weekend the famous Ford Supersale returns to the Brentwood Holiday Inn. This massive sale event is probably the largest used car sale in Essex and is totally unique.

For one weekend only, highly respected local Ford Dealer Group Allen Ford fill the grounds of the Brentwood Holiday Inn with over 300 used and nearly new Fords, plus a selection of other makes. Car buyers are spoilt for choice and prices are extremely competitive.

The whole event is held outdoors which creates a very relaxed atmosphere which customers enjoy. This is reflected in the fact that last year more than 1000 people attended the event and over 200 used cars were sold.

Customers can bring their part exchange vehicles with them and they will be given a generous valuation on the day. If a customer wants finance the Allen Ford team can arrange that as well.

As always, this event will be very busy. If you would like to pre-book an appointment at a time convenient to you, this can be done by phoning your local Allen Ford dealership.

ORIENT CRASH OUT OF CUP

Blades stay sharp as early Higdon header does the damage

Leyton Orient

Leyton Orient 0 Sheffield United 1
Capital One Cup, 3rd Round

By Rowland Lyons

at the Matchroom Stadium

LEYTON Orient crashed out of the Capital One Cup after Michael Higdon headed the Blades into the next round.

Fresh from a morale-boosting weekend win at struggling Scunthorpe, the O's fell behind in the second minute when defensive sloppiness allowed Higdon to beat marker, Nathan Clarke, and a flat-footed Gary Woods, and nod home from close range.

The inspired Blades - thrashed at Swindon last Saturday should have been two-up only a couple of minutes later, but goal provider Jamie Murphy - with a clear sight of goal - blasted over.

Orient hadn't even got started when Scott Cuthbert was forced off with barely ten minutes gone and a reshuffle saw midfielder, Bradley Pritchard filling in at right-back.

The Blades were always in control and restricted the O's to long range efforts, with David Mooney and Jobi McAnuff barely troubling skipper and keeper, Mark Howard.

Orient showed little improvement after the break despite the introduction of 'big hitters' Dean Cox and Darius Henderson.

Sheffield - limited to sporadic breakaways - should have tied the contest up with James Wallace and Higdon going close.

The shot-shy O's rarely troubled the well-organized Blades and it was only Orient's left-back, Elliot Omozusi, who threatened - hitting the outside of a post on 65 minutes, before seeing his stinging drive well-watched by the under worked Howard.

Indeed, with time running out Woods had to make a smart catch to foil sub, Chris Porter's glancing header.

Orient piled on the pressure and could have at least taken the tie to extra-time, but Romain Vincelot headed over from eight yards out.

Orient boss, Russell Slade admitted: "We had a lot of the ball, there were a couple of headers that went over and Elliot has gone close."

"Maybe, we needed just that bit of luck that was going to get us back in the game - it would have been interesting if we had scored."

With speculation rife over Cardiff's reported interest in Slade, he added: "Their approach has been turned down. I have no further comment to make."

Blades manager, Nigel Clough, added: "We showed some character and to a man the players did an outstanding job. Apart from a couple of long-range efforts and a header, we contained an excellent Orient side tonight."

Orient's Romain Vincelot said: "I was really frustrated tonight.

"I was waiting for the chance and sad I didn't score, but five minutes later in the dressing room I was saying that we must take this frustration out against Rochdale on Saturday."

Non-league round-up

Clarets' five goal thriller

by Brian Jeeves

STRUGGLING Chelmsford City put their recent Vanarama Conference South problems behind them to record their first home league win of the season with an exciting 3-2 success over Weston-Super-Mare at Melbourne Stadium. A brace from Michael Cheek plus one from former Southend United man Nicky Nicolau gave the Clarets an unassassable three goal lead. However, Weston replied with late goals from Tom Jordan and Corey Williams to ensure a nervy finale. This win moves City into 17th place with 11 points from 9 games.

Meanwhile in the Vanarama Premier, Braintree Town went down by a single Stuart Fleetwood goal at big spending Eastleigh.

It was a bad day in the Ryman Premier League with all five of the regions clubs slipping to defeat. Despite goals from Glenn Poole and Richard Halle, Billericay Town went down by the odd goal in five against Wingate & Finchley at New Lodge, and there was a 4-2 loss for Canvey Island at Margate. Tambeson Eydong and Kevin Dobinson on target for the Gulls.

AFC Hornchurch's frustrating campaign continued as the Urchins went down 2-0 at Dulwich Hamlet while Grays Athletic succumb to a single goal at home to Bognor Regis Town.

East Thurrock United completed an unwanted nap-hand, losing 2-1 at Hampton & Richmond Borough.

But there was better news in the Ryman North, particularly for Great Wakering Rovers. Goals from Tom Strickland (2) and Lewis Sparrow earned the Rovers a 3-2 triumph at BarkingSide. This was the villagers' second win of the season, lifting them off the bottom of the league. That place is now taken by Redbridge, who slipped to the foot of table despite a 2-2 draw at Tilbury. Brian Moses and Chinedu McKenzie found the net for 'Side, Sam West and Emiel Aiken replying for the Dockers.

Aveley won 3-1 at Romford. Spencer Harrison, Junior Baker and Aaron Gayle on target for the visitors, Tom Richardson replying for Romford. And Brentwood Town clinched the points, squeezing home 3-2 at Cheshunt.

Thurrock were the big winners of the day, hammering AFC Sudbury by six goals to two at the Wardale Williams Stadium. Ross Wall (2), Brad Warner (2), Charlie Stimson and Mark Onyemah were on target for Thurrock who move into third place.

But there were setbacks for Maldon & Tiptree, who went down 3-2 at home to Chatham Town, and Burnham Ramblers, who crashed 4-1 to Heybridge Swifts at Leslie Field. A hat trick from Neil Richmond along with a Billy Hunt strike, enough to see the visitors home.

In the Essex Senior League there was a big derby at Southchurch Park Arena where Southend Manor slipped to a late Harry Skinner penalty against Hullbridge Sports. Elsewhere Clapton won 4-1 at Basildon United and Bowers & Pitsea saw off Waltham Forest 3-2. Barking won by the same score line against Enfield 1893, while London Bari and Ilford shared the spoils with a 2-2 draw.

Ashingdon Youth under 11's Blues of the Southend & District Junior League are on the lookout for players in all positions in particular a goalkeeper of Division C standard or above. They train in Rochford every Saturday between 9:30 and 10:30am. Contact Neil Irvine on 07525360939

Westcliff U16s A 5

WITH 'Highams' ground drenched in late summer sunshine, Woodford welcomed Division 1 rivals Westcliff, who made the early morning trek from the Essex coast.

Woodford took the game to Westcliff from the off. Ronan McGoldrick was sharp in the tackle when Westcliff tried to pick up a loose ball, and with the Woodford pack in form, Woodford looked stronger in the opening stages and the game swung Woodford's way.

Woodford were exerting pressure but undid their own good work as they coughed up the ball. A deep kick back into the Woodford half could have created problems but Marks collected and relieved the pressure with a pacey 15 yard burst.

A powerful burst from West, nearly led to Batt and McGoldrick finding a way through. Following up Fay very nearly took the ball over the line but was held up. In form Zac Cannon made more vital inches, before Mead nipped in for a try in the right hand corner. Unconverted, Woodford led 5-0 after seven minutes.

From the restart Woodford were right into the attack again. Phillips made a jinxing run through the middle and almost got free for what would have been a glorious try before being held up on the Westcliff 22. Fay was well positioned though and offloaded to Marks to run the ball over in the corner. With another conversion just missing the mark Woodford led 10-0.

The physicality of Curness and Farrelly in the tackle was backed up by the sheer strength of Venditti and Rob Yiannakou in the ruck.

Whilst Woodford were dominant in the scrums and the rucks, Westcliff's passing was excellent at times, using the line with confidence and stretching Woodford defensively.

Westcliff's attempts to stem the flow were unsuccessful as West blazed a trail between the posts, converting his own try, and extending the Woodford lead to 17-0.

From Westcliff's next meaningful attack, West and then Branson were on hand for timely interventions, but a well-worked Westcliff line-out, utilising a high lift, led to a good attacking drive on the West-cliff right and a try.

The try was not converted and with 23 minutes gone Woodford's lead was reduced to 17-5.

Sending out a message from the restart, Yiannakou went into the tackle like a stoked up steam train flattening his opponents. Branson made a searching run, before a neat attacking move was created by McGoldrick, Farrelly, Curness and Branson.

The ever reliable Chamberlain was on hand to secure the ball as the move broke down and Mead and Chujor took over. With the ball offloaded to Batt, he made a great break on the right, passing to Mead who worked it to Curness to cross the line for a good team try. The try was not converted and with 28 minutes gone Woodford led 22-5.

Woodford were rucking well as the second half got underway. As West broke he lost the ball but then made up lots of ground to make a retrieving tackle on the opposite side of the pitch, epitomising his spirit in what was becoming an immense performance.

Westcliff were exerting pressure well inside the Woodford half. A quick break and good passing looked to be causing Woodford problems and they were unlucky to see a pass bounce off one of their players into the alert arms of McGoldrick.

With a length of the field run he was unstoppable for a try between the posts. West was on target with the conversion and Woodford led 29-5.

Westcliff looked to break at speed on the right but West terminated the move with ruthless efficiency. Woodford now gave a passing move to admire using the full pitch width from right to left to right and half-way back the pitch once more.

As the ball was recycled Batt tore up the right wing and made it look easy as he planted the ball between the posts. West converted the try for a 34-5 lead after 62 minutes.

Barely had play restarted when Woodford scored again. Farrelly made ground on the left and Carey did well to keep the move going kicking and chasing a loose ball up field. Carey recovered the ball and stood up well before offloading back to Farrelly who made up more ground, before passing to Goralczyk for a try to the left of the posts.

Unconverted Woodford led 41-5 and that's how it remained.
